THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L. Jr.

REFLECTIONS IN DEER CREEK

People are stll talking about the big lion Ray Arbogast shot last week. These deer eating critters are fortunately scare in these parts nowadays. Heard about the asking price on a local business building, average size, in good condition, on a side street, but nothing fancy about it. $16,500! The weeds growing around all over town don't do us any good in the eyes of visitors. Hear tell North San Juan developed a lot of weeds before it slid downhill and became a ghost town. Ghost towns are picturesque, but I like Nevada City as a live fire community.

The question everyone's asking these days—when is Lloyd Penrose's gift shop to open? Speaking of opening, Western Auto Stores is opening mighty soon. Bert See, the owner, has been working hard doing a lot of the labor himself. Bud Braunlich is about to open an addition to his Town Talk grocery store, so it can no longer be known as the world's smallest general store. A new photography shop will soon open on the Nevada City-Grass Valley Highway. It'll be called the G-B shop.

Another new store opened in the past few days is Michael Berta's Liquor Store(bought out Moore's) Sure are a lot of businesses changing hands. It either is or it not a healthy sign. Take your choice. It sure is healthy for the newspaper business.

Can't wait to see how the big Air Show on Labor Day turns out. A lot of good people are working plenty hard on it. I'll bet that day will be the first time a lot of people here and roundabout have ever been up there.

See where Governor Warren predicts enormous population increases for the state. Thought: The cities and towns that make themselves most attractive to newcomers will get the biggest growth. Nevada City —there's our cue!

Got all worked up the other day and wrote a big column about how Nevada City needs a city manager. I was the only guy hot and bothered about the idea, because when I asked a number of civic leaders what they thought about it. they all said, Ho-hum, they guessed they must have missed it, what was it all about? I" have to file it under the "Ideas Don't Cost Anything" or "You're Only Young Once" Departments.

When the municipal drinking fountain down in front of the Nevada City Ice Delivery is finallyy fixed, I think we all ouht to go down there and have speeches and a ceremony and wind the thing up by busting a bottle of champgne over it. I want first drink out of the fountain after it's doused with crampagne, too. I understand the gadget was installed when this community was still called Caldwell's Upper Store. It went on the bum a short while later, and the entire majesty of the City of Nevada has been waging a relentless battle to get it going again. I say we'll make it yet, Yessirree!

I wish they'd omit the "Auto News" department in the Sunday Chronicle. It's SO depressing. The automobile scribes make out like it's going to be so long before you get that new vehicle, that when you do it'll probably be atomic powered and travel in nothing but the stratosphere.

CONSTANT SOURCE OF AMAZEMENT DEPARTMENT: It is HARDER to find a parking place on Broad Street at 9 p. m. than at 11 a. m. What are we, strictly a night-blooming community?

See where the Hydraulic Association is holding regular meetings and beating the drum for a higher price for gold. File it under HOPEFUL-HOPEFUL.

Started this column thinking I didn't have a dang thing to say, and see I've written more than the prescribed column. WHAT A BEATING YOU FAITHFUL READERS TAKE!

A. F. BRADY, CIVIC LEADER, PASSES

A. F. Brady, for the last awo years foreman of the Nevada County Grand Jury, died last night in a Grass Valley hospital from what is believed to have been a paralytic stroke.

Brady was born and lived most of his life at 433 Neal Street in Grass Valley a home established by father and mother Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brady in the early 1860s. For many years he was manager of Montgomery Ward and Company's hardware business in Napa and Monterey, and for several years owned and operated a hardware business in Grass Valley.

The deceased was born in Grass Valley in August 1868. Despite his advanced years he took a lively interest in civic affairs of his city and county. He was an active member of Quartz Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West.

He leaves a daughter. Mrs. Constance Smith of Oakland and granddaughter Miss Patricia Louise Smith, sister, Mrs. Alice Spencer with whom he lived and two brothers. William Brady of Long Beach and J. F. Brady of Chicago.

Funeral arrangements are pending with Hooper and Weaver Mortuary.

TAHOE OFFICIALS PAY 900 PLUMAS FIRE FIGHTERS

Gordon Vance, chief fire dispatcher for the Tahoe National Forest, reported yesterday that all members of the staff who had been assisting in administrative work in the Plumas National Forest entailed by paying off some 900 fire fighters had returned to headlquarters here.

Vance stated that a total of $28,000 had been paid out through the administrative assistants sent from Nevada City to the small army of forest laborers who had finally extinguished the fires of Spanish, Ferris and Smith Creeks in Plumas County. He said that this sum represented only the wages paid and did not include food and transportation for the fire fighters.

Regarding the causes of the fires, Vance said the Smith Creek fire was either due to a careless smoker or to a delayed lightning fire. That it started near a trail rather inclined to the theory that a smoker started it. The fire at Ferris Creek was started by a delayed lightning fire, that smoldered a while then burst into flame. The Spanish Creek fire which was the worst in so far as damage and acreage was concerned was due to the explosion of a gas tank on a portable power saw, such as is used in felling timber.

Vance remarked that it is evident as shown by the huge payroll in the three fires mentioned, the taxpayer can be mulched of terrific sums by one careless smoker.

William Mullis Heads VFW Committee

William Mullis, junior vice commander of Banner Mountain Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been appointed chairman of the post's committee to aid veterans in filling out papers for terminal leave pay.

Other members of the committee are Quartermaster Jack Hansen, Adjutant Robert Paine and Albert E. Wharff. An office is to be established in the city hall to which veterans seeking aid in making out their terminal leave papers may be referred.

Thirteen new members were initiated with Past Commander Howard Bennetts of Grass Valley taking charge of the ceremony.

HOME FROM EAST

Mrs. John Thomas has returned to her home on South Church Street in Grass Valley after a several month's visit to Royal Oak, Michigan. She later visited friends in Dayton, Ohio and returned from Detroit by air.

Woodsman Hurt By Falling Limb

Cy Rollins, 637 West Broad Street employed in falling timber with a chain saw near Challenge, Yuba County, was seriously injured yesterday morning when struck by the limb of tree broken off by a tree just felled. He suffered a concussion of the brain and is now at home under medical care.

DOUBLE SHIFT FOR PRIMARY CLASS PROPOSED

Lloyd Geist, principal of the Elementary School announced yesterday that due to the large class of first year pupils in prospect, it was probable that a double shift would be necessary. Both Nevada City and Grass Valley schools open September 3.

Enrollment figures for six year olds are unprecedentedly large, numbering 75 to 80. It is proposed to open the morning shift at 8:30 o'clock and the afternoon shift at 12:30 o'clock.

New teachers for the school year in the Elementary School are John Lewis who will take the eighth grade and physical education, Mrs. Mary Wallis to fill a vacancy in the sixth grade, and Mrs. Jean Smollett to teach in the primary grades.

The board of education has awarded a contract for removing earth and leveling the playground of the Elementary School to Warren Transportation Company of Hayward. The earth is being used to widen the fill across Buckeye Ravine on Washington Street.

Mrs. Quick was the mother of nine children, six of whom survive her. She is alos survived by her brother, H. A. Curnow of Nevada City, and two sisters, Mrs. E. E. Dudley of Sacramento and Mrs. Evo Herboth of Marysville.

FOREST SERVICE MAN SAVES FISHERMAN

Dan Camtell of Reno narrowly escaped being drowned in the Boca reservoir near Truckee last Sunday and he probably owes his life to the prompt action of forest service patrolman John W. Torvinen.

The boat in which Camtell and a companion Walter McAllister were fishing was capsized by rough water. McAllister swam to shore and summoned aid which was promptly and expertly rendered by Torvinen. Torvinen swam out to Camtell who suffering from shock, unable to swim, was still clinging to the overturned boat, and brought him to shore. First aid treatment for shock and minor injuries was rendered by Torvinen.

NLRB HEARING HELD ON IDAHO MARYLAND MINE

The National Labor Relations Board Tuesday held a hearing in the Veterans Memorial Building for the purpose of determining whether or not the board has jurisdiction over the Idaho Maryland Mines Corporation and its employes and if it has, why an election should not be held to determine the collective bargaining agent for the employes.

Robert E. Tillman, attorney for the NLRB is trial examiner. Represented at the hearing were the Idaho Marylind Mines Corporation, the Mine, Mill and Smelter workers Union CIO, and the Mine Workers Protective League, which now is the bargaining agent with a two year contract with the Idaho Maryland, dating from July 1.

The trial examiner will make no decision. He will gather the evidence and present it to the NLRB in Washington which will make the decision.

Edgar T. Zook, of San Francisco, general counsel and vice president of the Idaho Maryland testified that the company is not engaged in interstate commerce and that therefore the NLRB has no jurisdiction over the mine or its employes.

Zook said that its product is sold in California and that it buys its supplies from California firms. He based his argument on 1938 decision of U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals which ruled that the Idaho Maryland was not engaged in interstate commerce. He declared that the conditions upon which the decision was based eight years ago have not been changed. He moved that the petition be dismissed. Tillman stated he could not act on the motion but that it would be forwarded to Washington.

Ed. J. Jones, secretary of the Mine Workers Protective League, testified to contracts secured by the league as bragaining agent in 1944 and 1946. William Gately, organizer of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, CIO recited his belief that a majority of the Idaho Maryland employes were members of his organization and gave a brief account of the refusal of the company to call an election last May.

DYNAMITE BLAST BLOWS RANCH CABIN TO BITS

Sheriff's deputies aided by investigators for the State Division of Forestry are hunting this week for clues to the person or persons who, Sunday night, dynamited a two room cabin of the ranch of Michael Emerick, adjoining the Schwartz Ranch in Pleasant Valley, about 8 miles northwest of Grass Valley.

The blast awakened neighbors for miles around at 11:20 p. m. Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen reports that there where the cabin stood there is now a hole in the ground with a few foundation stones remaining. The building was reduced to kindling wood and scattered over a wide area. A 5 foot piece of burned fuse was found. A tractor in an adjacent tool shed was blown over on its side. The sheriff states that much more dynamite was exploded than needed to destroy the building.

T. W. Honeycutt, Division of Forestry investigator, states that the explosion started a fire which burned over four acres of brush and grass before a pumper crew truck arrived and speedily stopped it. The sheriff is seeking Emerick for questioning.

CITY TAX RATE UPPED 10 CENTS

George Calanan, City Clerk and Tax Assessor, has announced that the new tax rate will contain an increase of 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation. The new rate is $1.40.

Breakdown of the rate is as follows: 20 cents for fire protection, 25 cents for library, 25 cents for street bond redemption, 70 cents for the general fund.

Main reason for the increase in rate is the projected extension of Nursery Street to the Willow Valley road. H. P. Davis is promoting the project, which will add a number of taxpaying lots to the city's assessment list.

The catalogue was edited by Harold Weaver, Dean of Placer College and contains a greatly expanded curriculum over that offered last year.

Among the advantages of Placer College listed in the catalogue are the following:

Special veterans service. In this connection a special veterans adviser has been designated to assist the veteran in getting the maximum value from his military experience.

SCHOOL GROUNDS IMPROVEMENT GOES FORWARD

By Edward C. Uren

Lots of hustle and bustle is taking place this week at the elementary school grounds and on Washington Street. At the school grounds Warren Transportation Company of Hayward, have taken a contract to move some 2000 yards of excavation. They have a P & H shovel at work with a 5/8th yard bucket and are keeping three trucks busy on the hauling end to the tune of 65 yards an hour.

The company is moving the earth and rocks at $1750 for the job.

The city is taking advantage of the short haul and the convenience of the project to widen the fill on Washington Street an additional 16 feet on the north side; a project that has been under consideration for a long time and which will lessen to a great extent the hazard of the sharp turn at the Calanan place. The street along this fill is less than 20 feet in width and the additional width will ease the turn at Coyote Street.

The city crew has extended the culvert up Buckeye ravine an additional 30 feet to take care of the excess width but as considerable shrinkage and settling of the newly made fill is bound to take place this winter, no permanent walk or paving will be attempted until some time next year.

Across School street, between the Bennetts and the Scheemer homes contractors are busy building forms for side walls and a reinforced concrete wall 10 feet in height back from the present rock wall on Pine Street which will be leveled off to form an additional playgrond 72 by 100 feet and will require 108 yards of concrete and some 600 yards of fill.

It looks as though the kids are going to have plenty of room to move around in this coming year and they will need it because the increase in population during the past year or so is beginning to tax the capacity of our schools.

The contract for the cement work is let to Grady Campbell at $2425, the district furnishing the steel and concrete.

PUSH-BUTTON WARFARE

When the U. S. Air Force startled the world by flying two Flying Fortresses—pilotless, crewless and entirely radio-controlled —from Hawaii to California in a simulated aerial robot bombing attack on the mainland, Colonel Harvey Alness laconically remarked:

"Long range, push-button warfare is here to stay.'

As an air warfare expert, who commanded this experiment as well as the radio-controlled "drones" in the Bikini atomic experiments, Colonel Alness spoke with enthusiasm natural to a soldier. It is as normal for a professional soldier to take pioneering pride in push-button warfare as it is for en electrical inventor to take pride in an innovation in push-button housekeeping for American homes..

Yet soberly arresting is the War Department's terming of the experiment as "Operation Remote." The military meaning is clear enough. It is now possible for radio-controlled planes, actual guided missiles, to plunge fearful explosives into the hearts of any cities or industries with absolute accuracy over distances of thousands of miles. In the hands of an enemy, those two planes—and hundreds more like them—could simultaneously devastate the entire Pacific Coast. And America has demonstrated the power to so attack any other nation if need be..

Operation remote? The real question, the disturbing question—how remote in time? This is the problem that news of this latest advance in the science of destruction must pose to the statesmen of the world. Unless Operation Remote is kept forever remote in time, unless human intelligence can pioneer for peace at a pace to match the pioneering in push-button warfare, all progress will end in a sardonic and ghastly joke on humankind..

Unlesss peace is here to stay, Colonel Alness is mistaken. For if push-button warfare is here to stay, in the sense that it will some day be used, then it too will pass from the cosmos when the human race passes. There will be no man alive to push the last button.—Contributed.

MAKING FARMERS OF ALL GERMANS NOT A SOLUTION

By Ralph H. Taylor

The long term problem of Germany—how to make sure that that troublesome nation which has plunged the world into two global wars, will not some day start a third—challenges the statesmen of the United Nations. All are agreed that Germany must be kept militarily impotent until the poisonous nazi ideology is purged from German national consciousness. Beyond that, there is dsagreement to the point of confusion—which isn't surprising, in view of the dismaying complexity of the situation.

Among the ideas advanced the Morganthau plan of the former Secretary of the Treasury is of natural interest to men who live by the land. Mr. Morganthau would take away Germany's heavy industry, for the most part, and drastically reconstruct that people's national economy on an agrarian basis. In brief he would make of Germany a nation of farmers, to the uttermost degree possible.

His thought isn't the flattering one that farmers are by nature more peaceable than other men, but that a people restricted to agriculture would lack the industrial potential to build a formidable military machine, and therefore, under his plan Germans would be henceforth a weak people in the military sense.

Somehow that notion has the ring and stamp of the declining New Deal, of which Morgenthau has been one of the stalwarts. It wraps up in one piece the fundamental two fold fallacy of New Deal doctrine.

1 That every difficulty of humankind is readily and completely solvable.

2 That the solution when arrived at is as simple as ABC.

What could be simpler than the Morgenthau plan or more foolproof (until one thinks it through): A nation of farmers cannot wage large scale war successfully in this mechanistic age. We put all Germans on farms. Ergo, we solve a problem that has vexed the world since Bismarch raped Austria and founded the German empire generations ago.

The plan has in common with most of the New Deal type dreams and schemes the factors that it is well intentioned, persuasively stated, superficially convincing—and it won't work.

One thing the environment of farmers has taught them is that some problems of existence—say storms, droughts, floods, market flunctuations, fires, accidents, disease outbreaks among plants and animals, and so on—can't be permanently disposed of over a reflective pipeful of tobacco by a comfortable fireside.

Some people like to farm. Some don't like it. Every farmer knows that if a son of his prefers to quit the land and become a doctor, teacher, mechanic, chemist or industrial engineer—that is the life he should pursue, if he is not to live a life time of frustration and resentment. To force millions of Germans, against their will into agriculture would only foster and make worse what is basically wrong with them as a people—a sense of frustration and resentment.

Bismarch played upon that sense, so did the kaiser, so did Hitler. As a world power Germany came up too late in history to figure in the age of discovery and conquest. She missed the boat, when the English were settling Canada and Australia and taking over India, when the French and Dutch were establishing colonial empires.

It doesn't require a statesman, but merely a casual reader of history, to discern the dangerous German national complex—a determination to do as other nations did in the 16th, 17th and 18th centuries. to make up for lost time by taking what the Germans want, just as the English and French and Dutch took what they wanted in the ancient days, by right of conquest.

What the Germans have not been able, so far, to comprehend is that the world has changed since that ruthless age. The reverse of conquest is in vogue among civilized peoples. The British are yielding, gradually but steadily, their sovereignty over India. Egypt is virtually free of English domination. The United States has just granted independence to the Filipinos. A new concept nations strong or weak, large or natons, strong or weak, large or small, has become the hope of the world—and the necessity of the world.

To bring the German people to comprehension and sincere acceptance of this concept—this is an essential of world peace. This columnist makes no pretension of having the solution. But surely it does not lie in the process of putting 90 million Germans on farms.

AUBURN COUNCIL PLANS PARKING METER SYSTEM

The city council discussed plans for the installation of parking meters in Auburn at a recent meeting.

Blue print plans furnished by the Dual Parking Meter Company called for installation of 358 meters on Lincoln Way High Street and a number of side streets.

After some discussion the council decided not to install meters on any side streets except Cleveland Avenue and a short section of East Placer street next to the Tahoe Club.

The tentative plan at present calls for meters on Lincoln Way from a point near the Catholic Church up to Harrison Street. On High Street it was planned to install them from E. Placer up to Harrison.

In lower town the meters will be installed along Lincoln Way and a short distance up Sacramento Street.

It was planned to leave six free ten minute parking spaces near the post office and also to install six 24-minute meters in that area. All other meters will be the 60 minute type.

The meter plan is still in the formative stage and may be further revised before actual installation is begun.

There are 19 national parks in continental United States, one in Alaska and one in Hawaii.

HYDRAULICERS HOPE FOR GOLD PRICE RAISE

That the future prosperity of the United States depends upon the early return to the gold standard and an increase in the price of gold to permit mines to operate was the concensus of opinion expressed recently at the meeting of the California Hydraulic Mining Assocaition, held at the Hotel Auburn.

It was the opinion of President George Hallock that the United States government might increase the price of gold at any time. He presented figures to show how the gold reserve of this country had been reduced from $22,000,000,000 at the time of Pearl Harbor to $20,000,000,000 at the present time.

General Warren T. Hannum expressed the belief that we would have no change in the price of gold or return to consideration of the gold mining industry until we do away with the New Deal and get a square deal.

Claude Clark called attention to the unfairness of our government in using gold which they purchase from miners in the United States at a low price in deals with foreign powers with a higher value on this same gold.

Some time in October was set as the time for the dedication of the Harry L. Englebright Dam, at which Governor Earl Warren will be the principal speaker. The actual date is to be determined by a committee headed by George Hallock president of the hydraulic miners. The bronze plaque to be placed on the dam as part of the dedication ceremonies was approved at Sunday's meeting.

At Sunday's meeting, presided over by Vice President Fred Browne it was voted to hold the September meeting in Forest Hill.

BEAR FLAG REVOLT ALMOST "LOST WEEKEND"

There were almost no casualties in the famous California Bear Flag revolt 100 years ago this summer, but the Americans who raised the California flag nearly experienced a "lost weekend" because of the liquid hospitality of the friendly Californians.

Captain Mariano Guadalupe Vallejo was commandant of the frontier defense headquarters in Sonoma on June 14, 1846 when the fort was surrounded by a group of motley Americans. Although his wife urged him to flee, Col. Vallejo deemed such a course neither honorable nor necessary. He invited the leaders of the group in and offered them wine and brandy.

Commander William B. Ide, one of the chroniclers of the incident, relates in hs journal that "the bot- the well nigh vanquished the captors."

But some of the stronger characters among the American party raised the first crude Bear Flat—a white muslin field, bottomed by a red flannel stripe with star and a bear in the upper part the words. California Republic beneath. Vallejo was sent to Sacramento to be a prisoner of Col. John C. Fremont and the people of California had taken the first step to break away from Mexico.

The Grand National, a great combination exhibition of beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep and swine, together with a top flight horse show, a rodeo of champions and a series or arena acts, is offering a record-breaking total of more than $105,000 in premiums this year—of which nearly $60,000 has been set aside for the livestock division.

Sequoia National Park was created in 1890.

BIKINI OBSERVERS VISIT U. C. CYCLOTRON

A group of observers at the Bikini atomic bomb tests, including representatives of ten of the United Nations were recent visitors to the giant cyclotron on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

The observers, scientists and military men, were guests of Professor Ernest O. Lawrence director of the Radiation Laboratory, under whose supervision the 4000 ton machine is being completed.

RADIOACTIVITY AFTER BLAST

Records of a Lauitsen type electroscope in the chemistry department on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California showed a "slight" increase in radioactivity on July 4, four days after the first Bikini blast it is announced by Dr. Clifford Garner.

The increased amount of radioactivity material in the air over Los Angeles was not enough to prove harmful and did not last more than 24 hours the Los Angeles campus chemist said.

Building Own Road To Success

CALIFORNIA'S CENTENNIAL, SONOMA

Editors Note: These are California Centennial years. From 1846 to 1850 history was being made—the fight for independence from Mexico, the coming of the land hungry emigrants, the gold rush, the sudden growth of sleepy pueblos into bustling cities. Because of the remarkable opportunity this anniversary period offers many California communities to celebrate their historic beginnings, the Regional Service Committee has prepared a series of articles plotting the course of events during those exciting years.. This is first.

In the year 1846 history pointed a finger at the peaceful village of Sonoma..

In May of that year, President James K. Polk had proclaimed the existence of war with Mexico and three weeks later Colonel Stephen W. Kearny had been ordered to advance from New Mexico and take possession of Upper California.

Meanwhile, Captain John F. Fremont whose scientific expedition was camped in the shadow of the Marysville Buttes, had become convinced that General Castro, commandant general at Monterey, was about to expell foreigners. He sent messages to warn settlers to arm themselves.

On June 10, at the ranch of Martin Murphy on the Consumnes River near the point where Highway 99 now crosses that stream, was fought the first battle of the campaign that brought California independence. A party of settlers, headed by Ezekiel Merritt attacked a small group of California soldiers escorting a band of horses. The horses were taken to Fremont's camp. The escort was freed.

Next day Merritt and some 30 followers set out for Sonoma. On June 14 they attacked undefended Sonoma, captured General Mariano G. Vallejo, declared in favor of a government founded on republican principles, elected William B. Ide commander and raised a flag bearing on its field a bear, a star and the words "California Republic."

The Bear Flat revolt had become a matter of history.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS AT PAHATSI

Seventy five girls and twenty five members of the staff are enjoying a two weeks session at the Camp Fire Girls Summer Camp at Pahatsi, Soda Springs, under the supervision of Mrs. R. M. Allen and Miss Elsie Dunn of Roseville. During the day swimming, boating, life saving, hand craft and outdoor craft occupy their time. Sunday and Monday evenings there was community singing and dramatization. On Tuesday evening we had a genuine barn dance complete with appropriate music. The guitar, violin and mandolin selections were furnished by Messrs. Harvey and Hugh Harless.

Some of the activities planned for the rest of the week include a marshmallow toasting party and bonfire out on the point on the shores of Lake Kilborn. This is for the Blue Birds. The older girls will take a moonlight hike to some nearby point of interest. Later on in the week we shall have movies typifying the winter season in this section of the country. Saturday night we will have a play night the theme of which will be the "Man in the Moon" in which everyone present will have a part.

Excellent food has been enjoyed by all. Mrs. Eleanor Carping is in charge of the kitchen and is assisted by several very willing workers.

Many girls are completing their requirements for rank, craft and out door honors and will receive other honors.

39,000 Tons Of Crops Sold At Farm Market

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22 — A report on three years operation of the San Francisco Farmers Free Market revealing that approximately 30,000 tons of surplus crops, worth $6,000,000 have been sold there, was released to the people of San Francisco and its trade area this week by John G. Brucato chairman of the Farmers Market advisory board.

Meanwhile the board of supervisors cleared the way for acquisition of a permanent site for the market by unanimous approval of a $62,000 appropriation to purchase property near Alemany and Bayshore boulevards.

Brucato's report also showed that.

A total of 25,000 trucks have brought produce to the market.

Fruit and vegetables have come in from 36 California counties, ranging from Los Angeles, Tulare and Kern in the south to Humboldt, Glenn and Amador in the north.

To be noted is the great increase in the number of small farmers coming into the market. These farmers operate from several to 50 acres and are generally by passed by the regular outlets. To a great extent the Farmers Market has been their salvation and has saved crops which otherwise would have been left to rot on the ground.

KEEP TRAFFIC LANE CLEAR

Motorists obliged to stop on the open highway should pull entirely off the pavement, if possible, to avoid the danger of being struck by another vehicle, the California State Automobile Associations warns. When stopping is necessary, make sure that no part of your automobile obstructs the traffic lane..

When making a right turn on the green light. "take it easy" and respect pedestrian rights, the California State Automobile Association cautions. Pedestrians may also be crossing with the signal and they have the right of way in a marked crosswalk.

NAVY DENTISTS ARE ASSIGNED TO CAMP BEALE

Either the Army is going to have to learn that an uuper molar is "topside" at Camp Beale or the Navy will have to learn that an eye tooth is "front" and not "aft."

The confusion in the army camp near Marysville comes about because navy dentists—for the first time—are being assigned to army posts.

The first three of 12 "drill" experts have reached Beale. Some 300 navy dentists will serve with the army throughout the nation. The dentists are recent graduates who must serve two years in the Naval Reserve but won't be needed that long by the navy.

The Willamette and Tualatin Valleys of Oregon are especially adapted to the culture of the filbert nut.

Veterans' News

In view of increasing specialization in agriculture and present high prices of farm real estate, many farm minded veterans can best prepare for the future by taking advantage of one or more of the plans for agricultural training now available under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act, Veterans Administration officials are pointing out.

Training in agriculture and practical farm experience will be an invaluable asset to veterans who want to operate farms later on, in the opinion of D. Z. McCormick chief of the VAs agricultural training division.

The following programs are now in operation or in the process of being organized in California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii.

1 Formal education in colleges, agricultural and vocational schools.

2 On the job training on farms.

3 A combination of school work and on the farm training through vocational agricultural schools.

Q. If I am entitled to two years of schooling, does that mean 18 months or 24 months?

A. You are entitled to one year, 12 calendar month, of education if you were in the service 90 days or more, plus one month for every month you served. Maximum eligibility is four years. If you spent two full years in the armed forces, you are entitled to 24 months of actual schooling.

Q. Are there any penalties in case a veteran accepts readjustment allowance (unemployment compensation) to which he is not entitled?

A. Any veteran who knowingly accepts an allowance to which he is not entitled is barred from receiving further readjustment allowances. Also the law provides for fine and imprisonment for anyone who obtains payment by fraud and misrepresentation.

Q. I obtained a guaranteed home loan at a time when the maximum guarantee was $2000. Now I understand the maximum is $4000. Am I entitled to another guaranteed loan now?

A. The amount of guarantee you have used is deducted from the total credit of $4000 to which you are now entitled. If you used $2000 then under the amended law you have half left, or an additional $2000 home loan guarantee.

WRECK GROUND SQUIRREL BURROWS

Killing the inhabitants of a ground squirrel burrow and leaving its tunenls intact, invites new residents and may continue the damage done by the rodents, says Dr. T. I. Storer, professor of zoology on the Davis campus of the University of California. Further he points out, some "colonia" burrows have several hundred feet of tunnels and may accommodate seven or eight squirrels at one time.

Hence Dr. Storer recommends the destruction of the underground homes of these crop pests. In gardens a chisel reaching down 12 to 18 nches would destroy a large percentage of the squirrel labyrinth.

County Budget For Aged Helped By Federal Aid

Nevada county's 1946-47 budget for aid to the needy aged, needy blind and dependent children faces revision because of the provisions of the recently signed federal legislation which will go into effect October 1. During June 1946, 528 people in the county received aid as needy aged, 16 as needy blind, 52 as dependent children.

Provisions of the new federal legislation include:

Additional federal support of the aid to the needy aged program of $5 per month which under California state law must be applied to increased payments.

Aid to the needy in California will be a maximum of $55 per month for the needy aged and $60 per month for the needy blind. Aid for dependent children will continue to be on a family budget basis which varies with the size of family, locality and unusual need.
